

5 • ECONOMIC VITALITY

Introduction

A healthy and vibrant economy is inextricably linked to quality of life. Scottsdale's distinguished quality of life is realized through the financial benefits of the City's, and in particular, the Greater Airpark's strong and invaluable economic prowess. The Greater Airpark's economic impact, and therefore its influence on Scottsdale's quality of life, cannot be overstated. The Greater Airpark is the largest employment center in the City of Scottsdale and comprises a range of economic opportunities including, aviation, manufacturing, industrial, technology, office, recreation, and tourism. The area is also a major employment center in the State, thus contributing to a significant proportion of city revenue, and enabling the provision of high-quality services for Scottsdale residents.

A primary objective of the Greater Airpark Character Area Plan is to develop and implement long-term economic development strategies that position the Greater Airpark as a regional economic leader. Capitalizing on the area's competitive strengths and Scottsdale's "cachet" should enhance the Greater Airpark's national and international economic prominence and prosperity. Hence, economic development will continue to be a fundamental priority for the Greater Airpark.

The economic development strategy for the Greater Airpark seeks to maximize the economic potential of Greater Airpark land resources. In order to attract the desired types of development, economic development strategy programs and policies must be carefully coordinated with market conditions. In addition, economic development programs and policies must be consistent with the City of Scottsdale's core values of environmental stewardship and sustainability. This chapter provides the framework to guide city leaders and private economic development decisions.
